

Old Crow speaks for the second time...

No one escapes life and death. You will always be trapped in one or the other and you'll fare much better in whichever you're trapped if you always remember:

Shit smells like shit.

Piss smells like piss.

You know when you smell shit and you know when you smell piss.

Listen to your nose over someone's opinion.

Including your own.

© Biff Mitchell

www.biffmitchell.com